Parent to Parent makes a difference in the lives of children with disabilities and/or special health care needs and their families. In our most recent state-wide survey, we learned the following from the families we serve:

Nearly 90% reported that they know more about services and resources for their child and family, agree that it has been helpful to connect with other families, and are satisfied with the program.

One mother shared this:

Joining P2P has been an amazing experience. The camaraderie and support has been essential, especially as a single mom whose young son was diagnosed with pervasive developmental delays and autism during the pandemic. The members have helped me learn about services, get connected with resources, and apply to programs. They have so much experience and knowledge that I rely on regularly. I recommend P2P to the other parents of young children with disabilities I meet through my son's school and therapies and am always surprised when I have not seen so many of these other parents in meetings. I am so grateful for my local group and could not have imagined negotiating the last two years without them.

We look forward to another year of supporting Washington families and are grateful for our 50+ program Coordinators (who are also parents/siblings of individuals with disabilities and/or special healthcare needs). They are leading groups, sharing resources, making matches and developing vital family support programming in their communities.

CONFERENCES / SEMINARS & SPECIAL EVENTS

WELCOME Cathy Murahashi!

The Arc of Washington State is extremely pleased to announce that we have hired Cathy Murahashi as our new Public Policy Specialist! Cathy comes back to The Arc after serving most of her career supporting families through The Arc of King County. Cathy is a well-known, respected, experienced, and savvy mobilizer and connector for families and self-advocates. She has decades of legislative experience, working on bills, analyzing budgets, coalescing families to testify in Olympia, talking to legislators, and connecting our community to tell their stories.

Cathy worked for over 18 years coordinating The Arc of King County's Parent to Parent program, the King County Parent and Family Coalition, and very notably the King County Developmental Disabilities Legislative Forums which attracted over 600 family members, people with intellectual and developmental disabilities (IDD), mission-based providers supporting our community, policymakers, and allied community members. She is the go-to navigator when families are "stuck" trying to remove barriers to services for their loved one and she is a talented problem-solver when gaps appear. Cathy has also been a steadfast educator on Supported Employment and pathways to employment for young adults and adults with IDD.

For the past four years, Cathy has immersed herself in housing supports, services, and policy for people with developmental disabilities in her work at Community Homes. She created a family network and curriculum for the adult transition to community living and has been a central voice on the need for housing, how housing is funded in our state, and working with legislators to understand better how to solve for our community needs. She is knowledgeable not only in housing supports but brings families together to talk about their vision for the future, is a benefits planner, and helps families and individuals with disabilities understand what resources may be available to them for housing and how to maintain benefits when a person with developmental disabilities is successfully employed.

Cathy does this work with a lens of lived experience as a parent. She crafted a transition-based curriculum for students and parents who are readying themselves for life after high school which she taught in collaboration with her adult son with disabilities. She is also a staunch advocate for her adult daughter, Holly who has developmental disabilities.

We cannot wait for Cathy to get started. I know so many of you will enthusiastically welcome her to her new position and will reach out to get support, share ideas, and help us bring our community together.

3.) ¿En busca de proveedores de terapias del comportamiento ABA en su condado que reciben cobertura médica de Apple Health?

Buscar un centro de terapias puede ser una odisea y confuso para muchas familias. Es importante reconocer que, la mayoría del centro de terapias tienen lista de espera y las familias pueden enlistar a sus seres querido en hasta 8 centros.

El éxito consiste en cual persistente es la familia al hacer llamadas regulares para saber en que numero de la lista de espera va su hijo o hija. Una libreta de registro le ayudara a llevar un récord de la lista en donde enlista a su ser querido, que tan frecuente hace llamadas de seguimiento y recuerde tomar nota de dicha información que le comparta la recepcionista.

Algunos centros le dirán que ya hablo hace poco, aun así, no tire la toalla, ya que ustedes están en su derecho de hablar y persistir hasta que haya un espacio abierto lo antes posible y lograr lo cometido. La lista para encontrar la lista se la comparto a continuación:

Apple Health fee-for services ABA provider directory

¡Hay varias cosas a considerar, echemos un vistazo!

Hay que reconocer que centro de terapias cubre las necesidades de mi ser querido con discapacidad. Las terapias que se adaptan deben ser prevenidas después de clases.

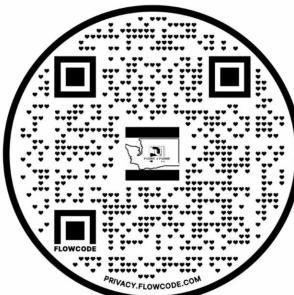

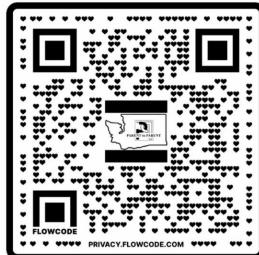

Desea que sean en casa o el centro de terapias,

Que centro de terapias que está cerca de su domicilio recibe clientes de la edad de su ser querido.

Department of Health launches new Respiratory Illness Data Dashboard, retires COVID-19 Data Dashboard

The new dashboard includes COVID-19, flu, and RSV data

OLYMPIA - The Washington State Department of Health (DOH) created a new Respiratory Illness Data Dashboard that allows people to track COVID-19, flu, and respiratory syncytial virus (RSV) disease activity by region across the state.

The new, comprehensive dashboard replaces DOH's COVID-19 Data Dashboard, which retires Sept. 18. COVID-19 data and reports can now be found on the new dashboard site.

"We hope the new Respiratory Illness Data Dashboard will inform communities and help guide their personal decision making on prevention measures such as masks and social distancing," said Tao Sheng Kwan-Gett, MD, MPH, Chief Science Officer at DOH. "Getting up to date on vaccinations and staying home when you're sick can also help protect you and those around you against the worst impacts of COVID-19, flu, and RSV. We all need to do our part to reduce the chance that our healthcare system could be overwhelmed by respiratory illnesses in the coming months."

One major change in the new dashboard is the inclusion of data from previous years, providing the public with clearer comparisons between current disease activity and that of years past. The Respiratory Illness Data Dashboard will be updated weekly through April 2024. Subsequent update frequency depends on the degree of ongoing activity for COVID-19.
