No

2. What are your top three priorities and how would you ensure people with developmental disabilities and their families are included in them?

Reduce crime, reduce the cost of living, Education. It's pretty much self-explanatory all people would benefit.

3. If cuts became necessary due to a recession or economic downturn, how would you protect services that people with IDD and their families need?

There is so much waste and abuse if we cut that first it should not be necessary to affect IDD folks and their families.

4. Is there other information you'd like constituents with developmental disabilities and their family and friends to know?

I am always open to education of any particular issue
